

FABULOUS FINDS JUST IN TIME FOR THE HOLIDAYS!

~Customized Presents, Green Gifts, and Home Décor, They All Spell Out the Perfect Statement That You're Looking For~

Phoenix, AZ – June 1, 2008 – Holiday shopping is right around the corner, and this year, do something different! For the traveler in your life, the spa girl, or the designer, Orca Communications Unlimited has chosen these 5 companies for this year's must-have gifts.

Move over pens, socks and flowers – now there's a unique gift someone is guaranteed to use each and every night. Pillowcasegrams are the perfect gift for anyone not wanting to send the same thing year after year. Their pillowcase is what they see every night before they go to bed. Wouldn't it be nice to send something special for where they spend so much time resting their head? Pillowcasegrams are custom-made pillowcases that are fun for people of all ages. Pillowcasegrams are sent in a special gift box and will include your personal message typed out on a telegram. Pillowcasegram will custom make and create that special one-of-a-kind pillowcase for any occasion. For more information please visit their website: www.pillowcasegram.com

A new way to fragrance your home without plug-ins, wicks, or sprays! Whip City Candle presents Beantowne Bears. These fluffy and adorable stuffed animals can scent a room for up to four months! Styles include bears, bunnies, moose, and snowmen and are available in dozens of different fragrances including hot apple pie, green tea and lemongrass, Georgia peach and plumeria. Beantowne Bears are created by taking a high end plush animal, dipping them in all natural soy wax and fragrance then refluffing them to make them look adorable. They are perfect for children's rooms, college dorm rooms, nursing homes, and any room around pets that you'd like to fragrance. To see all the styles and scents visit www.whipcitycandle.com

Over 75 million people wear an employee ID at work. It's usually worn on a shoelace style lanyard around their neck, which is not exactly anyone's first choice as a fashion accessory to wear with a carefully chosen outfit. BooJeeBeads™ has redefined "Office Chic" with an exciting collection of "I.D. jewelry" designed to display employee I.D. badges in style. The line includes pretty glass beaded ID lanyards which features a magnetic safety clasp and retractable badge reel jewelry for those who prefer to clip their I.D. on their waist. BooJeeBeads™ are fun, fashionable, affordable and available in styles for nurses, teachers, students, transportation and office staff alike. Organic products are no longer considered hard-to-find, specialty items. Now thanks to companies like Wild Dill, the needs of people looking for items that help their children's body and the environment are finally being met. Wild Dill sells products that are organic, fair trade, sweatshop-free, natural and/or recycled. Families are becoming more aware of where their clothing, toys, bedding and furniture come from and how they are being produced. They are looking toward organic items for the health benefits, better quality and environmental advantages over the competition. Wild Dill helps people be kind to the earth while caring for their most precious cargo, their kids! For more information please visit their website: www.wilddill.com
